
localization (thus forcing U.S. companies to give up valuable data to local companies), and would require the U.S. to cooperate with local partners who may limit online freedom. As Senator Bernie Sanders (I-VT) said, "This is a disastrous trade agreement and must not be approved by Congress."

"There is no provision in the TPP for U.S. negotiators to take on the powerful US Chamber of Commerce and let them effectively write the rules for American trade. In fact, there is very specific language in the TPP that actually says that the Administration and Congress can not change the TPP deal in any way, without the agreement of all of the other TPP countries," adds SumofUs.org. "In other words, if the US Senate agrees to this deal, we'll be stuck with it and we will not have the ability to change it." Since the TPP was negotiated 6d1f23a050
